The Mexican people take a great deal of pride in celebrating their independence and eventually hope to get it.

Nebraska Judge and Gov. McMullen refuse to prevent the carrying out of the bigoted broad-and-water sentence of the judicial witch-burners. "Am I my brother's keeper?"

Mr. Rudyard Kipling dips his pen in venom, and as lost to all sense of decency as to any comprehension of the marvel of America sending 2,000,000 armed men across the sea, to save Europe at a cost of forty thousand millions of dollars and forty thousand lives, takes a dirty crack at the people who helped to prevent him from becoming a German vassal, nor is it his first. In 1894 he paid his tribute to "An American." "Calm-eyed he scoffs at sword and crown, Or, panic-blinded, stabs and slays; Blatant he bids the world bow down, Or, cringing, begs a crust of praise."

Illinois joins the demand that the American Legion shall not go to Paris. Why make that long trip, Buddy, when you can stay home and be insulted with more dignity by the most eminent writers of Europe?

WELLER IS WINNER OVER HILL IN CLOSE MARYLAND CONTEST

Captures 83 Out of 147 Votes in Nominating Convention.

MULLIKIN IS NAMED FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Complete Control of G. O. P. Committee Won by Senator; Returns Are Detailed.

Special to The Washington Post.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 15.—Senator O. E. Weller was renominated in Maryland's Republican primary, Tuesday, belated returns tonight assuring him of 83 votes out of 147 in the nominating convention, or nine more than necessary.

A wet, but not flaunting it in the campaign, he lost five of the six legislative districts in Baltimore to Representative John Philip Hill, who ran as a "wringing wet," but the senator carried 16 out of the State's 23 counties. Hill carried five and quite likely two which had not been heard from—Worcester and Howard.

Representative Frederick N. Zihlman, chairman of the House District committee, defeated his opponent, George Louis Eppler, more than 2 to 1 in every one of the five counties in the Sixth Congressional district.

Addison E. Mullikin, Weller's gubernatorial candidate, was assured of the necessary 74 convention votes on the face of available returns.

In Baltimore city, Gov. Ritchie, renominated on the Democratic ticket, ran approximately 9 to 1 over his opponent, William Milnes Maloy, who had the endorsement of the Antislavery league and Maryland Law Enforcement league, and in the counties ran more than 4 to 1 ahead of him, Maloy not carrying a single county.

Where Hill Lost Nomination. Hill's greatest upset came in Cecil and Talbot counties, the former the home of his campaign manager, former Senator Joseph I. France. He lost Prince Georges county by 47 votes out of a total of 3,131 votes cast. With this county and Cecil and Talbot he would have won.

Humphreys carried four districts in the city and Mullikin two.

In addition to his own renomination and the nomination of Mullikin, who was his candidate for governor, Senator Weller also won complete control of the Republican State central committee, which gives him control of the State and city Republican machines.

Hill carried his own congressional district, the Third, in Baltimore city, and his candidate for Congress, Dr. John J. McGinty, was nominated there.

Humphreys carried his home county, Wicomico, and F. Bladen Lowndes, who was affiliated with Hill and Humphreys, is credited with having carried both Howard and Allegany counties for Hill.

Weller Is Gratiified. Senator Weller, who was receiving returns from the primary at his home in Washington today, late this afternoon in an informal statement expressed extreme gratification over his nomination.

"I naturally felt very much pleased to have won the nomination (CONTINUED ON PAGE 5, COLUMN 2.)

Filipino Bill Asks Annexation of Guam

(Special Cable Dispatch.) Manila, Sept. 15.—Local Americans, who for years have been branded as imperialists by the Filipinos, were considerably amused today by a concurrent resolution introduced into the house of representatives by Eduardo Marcano, member from Masbate, to annex Guam to the Philippines.

Kidnaped American May Be Freed Today

Mexico City, Sept. 15 (By A. P.). Police headquarters announced tonight that the police had located the place in the wild mountain region of the state of Morelos where Jacob Rosenthal, of Long Island, N. Y., is being held captive by bandits. It was said the authorities were hopeful that they would obtain Rosenthal's release tomorrow.

The United States embassy presented today a formal note to the Mexican government regarding the kidnapping of Rosenthal.

Dawes Denounces Rules Of Senate as "Sinister"

Vice President Declares They Are Used by Minorities and Individuals for Personal and Political Purposes in Legislation.

New York, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—Present Senate rules provide a sinister instrument quietly and continually used by individuals and minorities to modify for personal and political purposes the form of current legislation of all kinds, Vice President Dawes declared here tonight in an address at a dinner of the radio industries. Gen. Dawes asserted that at times the open filibuster seemed to be engaged in only as a reminder to the majority of what the minority as individuals could do to other legislation if they were not appeased by its modification.

"Over all the deliberations of the Senate hangs as a cloud the menace of the selfish use of this power," the Vice President said. "Time and time again its deliberations interrupted by the threat of its use. Time and time again do the representatives of a nonpartisan majority unsuccessfully plead with and beg individual senators not to block the proper transaction of necessary business because of their dissatisfaction with the status of other matters often entirely personal and trivial.

"At times the whole Senate waits while the leaders of both the minority and majority parties negotiate with recalcitrant senators, for what time for a vote on important legislation. Such a situation would be absurd if it did not concern matters of such public import as to make it tragic."

Gen. Dawes said the frequency with which proceedings under unanimous consent were resorted to was "conclusive proof not only of the inadequacy of the present rules, but of the greatness of the power of obstruction which they give to every individual senator."

"The strenuous and often pathetically unsuccessful efforts to secure unanimous consent agreements when the vast majority of the Senate desires to proceed with important business," the Vice President continued, "are in effect efforts for (CONTINUED ON PAGE 10, COLUMN 4.)

FOUR MEN ARE FLOGGED BY ARMED, HOODED MOB

Victims Dragged into Virginia Woods and Made to Remove Shirts.

ACCUSED OF RUM SALE

Special to The Washington Post. Norfolk, Va., Sept. 15.—Telling their story today for the first time, three young Norfolk men, just recovering from a beating administered by members of a mob of 70 armed and hooded men on the morning of August 30, declared they had been subjected to treatment that their fellow citizens would hardly believe could be administered in a civilized community.

There were four men beaten, but an investigator was unable to find one of them. The men who were beaten, according to the story told by three of the victims, were Benjamin Seigel, Harry Rosen, Benjamin Lapping and a youth known as "Babe" Gallop. Seigel, Rosen and Lapping told of their experience.

According to their stories, they were seized near the Speedway oil station on the boulevard near Norfolk by the mob, who arrived upon the scene in a truck. All four of the men were employed at the oil station, as is also W. W. ("Doc") Terry. The mob, beat all except Terry, who, according to the others, exhibited his membership card in the Ku Klux Klan.

FIRE UNDER CONTROL AS SHIP MAKES PORT

Gray Safe at Wilmington; Freighter, With 32 Aboard, Still Missing.

Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—Officials of Hyde & Co., shipping agents, said this afternoon that fire in the hold of the steamer Robin Gray, which put into Southport harbor about noon, was under control. The ship is en route from New York to the Pacific coast and is of 4,267 tons. A fireboat is standing by the vessel and as soon as practicable the crew will begin jettisoning.

New York, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—The fate of the 32 members of the crew of the British freighter Loyal Citizen, which broadcast distress calls yesterday, continued a mystery today.

The Independent Wireless Telegraph Co. reported that during the night the French steamer Denagat and the British steamer Princess May had reported passing a capsized lifeboat in the vicinity where the Loyal Citizen was last reported, about 150 miles southwest of Bermuda.

Savoie in Collision, But Continues Trip

Paris, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—The French liner La Savoie, which left Havre on the 11th, today was reported having collided with a cargo boat in the fog.

It is announced that the liner suffered some damage above the waterline on the port side, but that nobody was hurt. The vessel is continuing normally on her voyage to New York.

FONCK TO HOP OFF ON FLIGHT ACROSS ATLANTIC AT DAWN

New York-to-Paris Aero Plans to Rise Over Coast Storm.

LIEUT. CURTIN URGES EARLY DEPARTURE

Big Machine Is Tested in a 60-Mile Trip at Sea by Its Pilots.

Special to The Washington Post.

Minneapolis, Sept. 16 (Thursday) (By A. P.).—The first nonstop flight from New York to Paris will start at 4:30 this morning, standard time, Lieut. Lawrence Curtin announced shortly after midnight this morning.

Despite unfavorable weather conditions near the American coast, the Sikorsky plane will take off at dawn with the expectation of rising above local disturbances, Lieut. Curtin said. Capt. Rene Fonck, leader of the flight, said earlier he would accept Lieut. Curtin's word and would be at the hangar at 4:05 this morning, prepared to leave 25 minutes later.

Lieut. Frederick Nelson, who has aided Lieut. Curtin at the hangar of the giant biplane, gave out the following statement with Lieut. Curtin's approval:

"Weather conditions are slightly below the average for this time of the year, but it would be impossible to attempt the flight two weeks from now. At any season of the year there would likely be some bad weather encountered on such a long flight.

"It is planned to start today, even if it is raining here, and to fly high enough to get a favorable wind. Favorable weather conditions at the other end of the route offset the unfavorable conditions close at hand."

Lieut. Nelson said that clear weather was expected at New York and the plane would then climb high above unfavorable winds until off Newfoundland. The storm area reported in the northern mid-Atlantic would be cleared, he said.

60-Mile Test Trip.

New York, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—Capt. Rene Fonck and his three companions, who, will attempt a nonstop flight from New York to Paris in the biplane S-35, today made a 60-mile test flight out to sea in preparation for a possible take-off tomorrow morning.

Lieut. Lawrence Curtin, U. S. N., assigned yesterday by the Navy Department, associate navigation and alternate pilot for the flight, piloted the huge craft for the first time today. After the test flight, lasting an hour and 40 minutes, he expressed enthusiasm over the biplane's performance. An altitude of 6,000 feet was attained.

Capt. Fonck said late today that the hop-off will be made tomorrow (CONTINUED ON PAGE 5, COLUMN 6.)

Schoolboy, 10, Kills Playmate With Blow

Philadelphia, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—Twelve-year-old Manuel Manulnik was killed today in a friendly demonstration in a public school yard of how Dempsey and Tunney will fight. The lad died as the result of a blow from a playmate, Carl Weinstein, 10, who played the part of Dempsey. Weinstein was arrested on a charge of manslaughter.

Feminists in Attack On Monroe Doctrine

Santiago, Chile, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—An international feminist congress, in session here, has adopted a resolution in opposition to the Monroe doctrine, declaring the doctrine has caused the "loss of liberty" of such nations as Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines.

The congress voted to adhere to the policy voiced by former President Alessandri: "Latin America for Latin Americans."

Column of Spanish Troops Foils Riffs

Paris, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—Advices from Fex say that the Spanish column under Col. Capas has been extricated from danger by the arrival of reinforcements.

NOTES AND CHECKS SENT TO DAUGHERTY BY KING DISAPPEAR

Missed After Death of Committeeman, His Secretary Says.

PAPERS ALL INTACT ON MARCH 27, LAST

Steel Magnate Is Excused, His Story Unshaken by Long Cross-Fire.

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—The mysterious disappearance of important correspondence between Harry M. Daugherty and John T. King, after the death of the former Republican national committeeman from Connecticut, was revealed today at the trial of the former Attorney General and Thomas W. Miller.

John D. Durkin, confidential secretary to King at the time of his death, a few days after he was indicted with Daugherty and Miller, gave the testimony. He swore that the letters, along with correspondence relating to King's bank and brokerage accounts, were packed in a box and taken to Bridgeport, Conn. Since then, he said, the documents have not been seen and their whereabouts are unknown to him.

Government attorneys characterized the letters exchanged by Daugherty and King as documents that would throw much light on the alleged conspiracy between Daugherty, King, Miller and Jesse Smith, former aid to Daugherty.

Two Stubs of Checks.

The correspondence, they said, contained two checks for $2,500 each which they allege was interest on $100,000 in Liberty loan bonds which they allege King gave Daugherty as part of his share in the $441,000 fee Richard Merton, German metal magnate, paid to King to procure speedy refund of $7,000,000 of American Metal Co. shares seized under the trading-with-the-enemy act.

The brokerage account correspondence, government attorneys said, would reveal how Liberty loan bonds aggregating $25,000 were sold for King by a New York brokerage house. These bonds, they charged, were of the same block numbers as those transferred to Merton from the United States Treasury.

After Durkin had testified that he helped King to extract from the general files in King's office the documents that he said had disappeared, Assistant United States Attorney Kenneth F. Simpson asked him when this search was made.

"In the spring of 1924," Durkin replied.

Rumors Caused Search.

Pressed by Simpson, Durkin said that the segregation of the documents was made at the time the first rumors of an investigation of the payment of the claims of the (CONTINUED ON PAGE 5, COLUMN 4.)

LANGLEY PAROLE VOTED; JONES BROTHERS LOSE

Recommendations by Board at Atlanta Forwarded to Attorney General.

WILL BE DECIDED HERE

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 15 (By A. P.). John W. Langley, former representative in Congress from Kentucky, serving a sentence in Atlanta Federal penitentiary on conviction of conspiracy to violate the Federal prohibition law, has been recommended for parole by the parole board, it was said today at the Atlanta prison. The recommendation to Attorney General Sargent.

The board denied clemency to Neufeld Jones, former assistant prohibition director for Georgia, and his brother Winfield, both of whom are serving two-year sentences at the Atlanta Federal prison for conspiracy to violate the prohibition law.

Langley resigned his seat in Congress and came to Atlanta after his conviction was affirmed. He is serving a two-year sentence. At the meeting of the parole board here last week Langley was one of several score inmates of the prison to appear and ask for clemency. He was before the board in person. Any action on the parole, it was stated at the prison, would be announced through the Department of Justice.

At the recent primary in Kentucky Mrs. John W. Langley won the Republican nomination for the seat formerly held by her husband.

Recommendations for clemency for the Jones brothers reached the board in the form of letters and telegrams, including expressions from the two Georgia senators and five members of Congress as well as national prohibition leaders, it was said.

An affidavit from the star witness, Jess E. E. Baker, read to the board, stated that the Jones brothers had nothing to do with the Maryland Drug & Manufacturing Co. after September 1, 1924. It was a case growing out of the alleged conversion of alcohol by this company, with which the Jones brothers were connected, that resulted in their conviction.

America's Merchant Marine At Sea to Stay, London Told

Chairman O'Connor, of Shipping Board, at British Luncheon, Proposes Parley of Maritime Powers to Apportion World Trade.

London, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—The holding of a round-table conference by ship owners of the world to work out trade division agreements was suggested tonight by Chairman T. V. O'Connor, of the United States Shipping Board, at a dinner in his honor at the Carlton hotel. Many prominent British and American shipping and financial men were in attendance.

"When the ship owners of the world are ready, regardless of flag, to sit around a table and discuss present conditions upon the oceans, I wish to assure you that if invited, we will be glad to take our place at the table," he said.

After telling the Britishers that the United States realizes that the maritime nations of Europe will pursue their ocean trade with historic perseverance, Mr. O'Connor said:

"I wonder if you have the same confidence in the ability and determination of the United States to stick it out upon the high seas. It should be clearly understood that the American Congress is determined to have a permanent merchant marine, privately owned, if possible, but a merchant marine at all events."

Mr. O'Connor cited the American law authorizing railways to give preferential rates to freight destined for shipment to foreign ports in ships under the American flag.

"I need not dwell upon the benefit to American shipping if we attempted to invoke this law," he said. "We have not invoked it."

Mr. O'Connor urged the necessity of greater economy on the part of all nations in operating ships, and said there should be a division of territory so that ships will not have to sail with only part cargo.

"If the great nations of the world are to persevere in their ocean industry, something must be done to stop the waste upon the oceans. No shipping company should be willing to go to the hospital for the sake of sending its rival to the mortuary. It is a common saying that it is the (CONTINUED ON PAGE 10, COLUMN 4.)

MRS. HALL INDICTED WITH HER BROTHERS ON MURDER CHARGE

Slain Rector's Cousin Also Is Accused by Grand Jurors.

WOMAN IS SURPRISE WITNESS AT HEARING

Saw Henry Stevens in New Brunswick the Day After Killing, She Says.

Special to The Washington Post.

Somerville, N. J., Sept. 15.—Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall and three of her kinsmen were indicted today for the murder of her husband, the Rev. Edward W. Hall, Episcopal rector, and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, his choir singer, at a trying place on the Phillips farm near New Brunswick. The three relatives indicted with Mrs. Hall are Henry Stevens and Willie Stevens, her brothers, and Henry de la Bruyere Carpenter, her cousin.

Henry Stevens, the wealthy sportsman, awaited arrest, which came at 8 o'clock tonight, at his home. Sheriff John Grant, with State police and county detectives, made the arrest. Stevens was taken first to Toms river for questioning, as the officers knew defense lawyers would be waiting at Somerville to protect him, after he had been booked and fingerprinted.

Indictments late tonight were that Mrs. Hall would not be placed under arrest until after she pleads within the next few days to the indictment against her.

The indictments were returned by the April grand jury, sitting in almost imromptu session, four years and one day after the crime's commission. Henry Stevens was indicted on the testimony of a new surprise witness, Miss Mary Demarest, of Highland Park, N. J., who swore that she saw him in New Brunswick on the morning of September 15, 1922, the day after the murder.

Miss Demarest's story seemed to shake Henry Stevens' alibi, which had stood for four years.

First Story Shaken.

Two weeks ago Special Prosecutor Simpson partly smashed the alibi when he forced five neighbors of Henry Stevens at Lavellette, N. J., to back down on their previous declarations that they had spent the murder night fishing with Mrs. Hall's brother on the beach at Lavellette. Simpson had held back Miss Demarest as a surprise until almost the last minute. He had called more than twenty witnesses before the grand jury between 10:30 a. m. and 4:20 p. m., when he submitted the case and left the juryroom.

The grand jurors deliberated ten minutes and took one ballot, which was said to have been unanimous for indictments of all four persons named.

The names of those indicted were not publicly announced but quickly became known, and it likewise became public that all four are named in each of two true bills, one charging the murder of Dr. Hall and one the murder of Mrs. Mills.

Bench Warrants Issued.

After the jury's action the clerk of the court took the indictments and proceeded to issue bench warrants for Mrs. Hall and Henry Stevens. This procedure was not necessary in the case of Willie Stevens and Carpenter, since they had been held without bail in the Somerset county jail for five weeks.

Mrs. Hall, at her New Brunswick mansion, took the news of the indictments calmly. Her lawyer, Timothy Pfeiffer, announced: "We welcome this opportunity to prove innocence before a trial jury."

The arraignment of Mrs. Hall, Henry and Willie Stevens and Carpenter will probably await the presence at Somerville of Justice Charles W. Parker, of the New Jersey supreme court, on Saturday.

Surprise for Defense.

Sensor Simpson's move in throwing the Hall-Mills case before the April term grand jury, which goes out of existence next Tuesday, took the defense completely off its feet. It had been thought the case would be heard by the September grand jury.

Simpson had threatened to "investigate" members of the latter body, seeking to determine that no member might be, in any way, intimately connected with the defense. Then he brought the case before the April body which had only a few days of existence before it. One day's sitting served the prosecutor's present purpose.

HIERARCHY EXTENDS MEXICAN CATHOLICS PLEDGE OF SUPPORT

Cardinals and Bishops, in Conference Here, Send a Message of Greeting.

"WITH YOU TO END AND TO VICTORY," IS WORD

Plans for Russian and Near East Relief Program Are Adopted.

The Catholic hierarchy of the United States, composed of bishops representing 20,000,000 or more Catholics in this country, sent a message to the Catholics of Mexico yesterday.

"With God's blessing," said the message, "we shall be with you to the end and to victory."

Praising the Mexican Catholics for their martyr-like spirit and their "magnificent fight against a tyrannical government," the hierarchy predicted a victory for liberty and justice and declared that Mexico will emerge from the trial a stronger and purer nation.

The message, which was signed by the 4 cardinals, the 9 archbishops and the 51 bishops attending the meeting of the hierarchy at Catholic university, was addressed to the archbishops, bishops, priests and laity of Mexico. It follows:

"In these days of your severe trials and persecutions, we, the bishops of the United States of America, with entire sympathy and affection to you, dear brethren, bishops of the United States of Mexico, and to your heroic people. We, our clergy and laity, are watching with eagerness and entire sympathy your magnificent fight against a tyrannical government. We applaud your wisdom, moderation and firmness, and are filled with admiration of the calmness, courage and endurance of the Mexican people.

Praise Spirit Shown.

"You are showing to the whole world the true spirit of martyrs, ready to endure and suffer all for the sake of Christ. You are also showing yourselves the real champions in Mexico of religious and civil liberty. You are fearlessly resisting armed force in defense of the inalienable rights of man.

"The fight may be long; it may give many martyrs to the church and to mankind. It will end only with victory of liberty and justice. The long suffering and peace loving Mexican people, too long the victim of ruthless militarism, will emerge from this trial a stronger and purer nation, with a constitution founded on the true principles of justice and liberty, and a government that honestly respects the rights of the people.

"Be comforted, therefore, dear brethren. We, the Catholic bishops and priests and people of America, pledge you our prayers and our deepest sympathy in this, your hour of sorrow. With God's blessing we shall be with you to the end and to victory."

While several of the bishops had previously extended words of comfort to the Catholics of Mexico, the message yesterday was the first that had been sent out in the name of the church as a whole.

Relief Program Planned.

Plans for an ambitious program of welfare and relief work in Russia and the Near East were adopted by the hierarchy. Under these plans, all Catholic societies in this country doing such welfare work will be consolidated, the single, unified organization to be known as, "The Catholic Near East Welfare Association."

In adopting this program, the hierarchy was carrying out the wish of the Pope, who recently called the Rev. Edmund A. Walsh, S. J., to Rome to discuss the matter. Father Walsh, who is now at Georgetown university, was at the head of the Papal Relief Mission in Russia during the famine there after the war and expended a fund of approximately $100,000,000.

Father Walsh will be president of the new welfare association. Patrick Cardinal Hayes, of New York, will be the "protector," and with three other cardinals, will compose the board of governors. They will be assisted by an executive committee.

CARDINALS ATTEND MEETING OF HIERARCHY HERE

Ranking prelates of the Catholic hierarchy of the United States, who met yesterday at Catholic university to confer on subjects of interest to the welfare of the church in this country. Patrick Cardinal Hayes, of New York; Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, of Philadelphia; and William Cardinal O'Connell, of Boston, who will act as chairman of the meeting, are shown in the center of the photograph.

tee composed of bishops, priests and prominent laymen.

The business administration will be in charge of Joseph F. Moore, who will have headquarters in New York. A feature of the new program will be a widespread campaign to bring students from Russia and the Near East to schools and colleges in the United States.

Brown Bear Cubs Due To Reach Zoo Monday

Two Alaskan brown bear cubs, en route from Seattle, are expected to arrive at the zoo Monday. The authorities at the zoo especially are pleased to have the cubs, for the Alaskan bears in the collection are of advanced age.

The cubs are the gift of Stephen T. Mather, director of the national park service. Mr. Mather, who spent considerable time in Alaska, says the cubs should amuse zoo patrons as they are good wrestlers.

Mrs. Wilcox is survived by a daughter, Miss Pauline Seymour Wilcox, Honorary pallbearers were Monseigneur Burke, Dr. H. J. Crosson, Frank Stetson, Herbert A. Gill, Dr. James A. Gannon, Dr. Benjamin C. Perry, John McMahon and Thornton Boland.

GERMAN PHILOSOPHER IS DEAD

Prof. Eucken, Nobel Prize Winner, Succumbs to Pneumonia.

Jena, Germany, Sept. 15 (By A. P.). — Prof. Rudolf Christoph Eucken, dean of German philosophers, died today from pneumonia. He was born at Aurich, Ostfriesland, January 5, 1846.

Many of his important writings have been translated into English and French. He had occupied the chair of philosophy at Jena university since 1874.

Prof. Eucken was awarded the Nobel prize for literature in 1908, and in 1912 was a Harvard exchange professor. While continuing the chair of philosophy at Jena, he ceased active teaching in 1920, and devoted himself entirely to scientific writing.

2,000 VIRGINIANS ATTEND OPENING OF FAIRFAX FAIR

Horse Racing and Dancing Are Features; Gala Close Saturday.

CATTLE SHOW IS HELD

Residents of old Virginia yesterday turned out in force to attend the opening day of the thirteenth annual Fairfax fair, held near Fairfax courthouse, under the auspices of the Fairfax (Va.) County Fair association.

Horse races, a cattle show, dancing and various other amusements featured the opening day of the fair, which will close Saturday. Two thousand persons attended the fair yesterday. E. R. Buckley, secretary of the fair association, said last night, and a larger number is expected to attend today and tomorrow, bringing the fair to a gala close with a dance Saturday night. A dance, held last night, will be repeated again tonight.

Miss Rebecca Ayers, of McLean, Va., riding Bob, won the first race at the fair yesterday. W. Keaster, of Fairfax, however, won both the second and third races. In the second riding Morbey and in the third was up on Copperface. H. C. Ayers, of McLean, Va., up on Midnight Rays, took the fourth, and John Adams, of Fairfax, won the fifth and sixth riding Bogart and Warrenton. E. Eberhart, of Fairfax, riding Star, won the next; John West, of Fairfax, on Copper Rail, won the eighth race, and J. H. Barnes, of Fairfax, took the last race, mounted on Aetna.

School-Clerk Brides To Be Dinner Guests

Four clerks in the Franklin school who gave matrimony as their reason for retiring since last June will be guests at a dinner to be tendered them by their former coworkers at the Women's City club at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

The recent brides are Mrs. Alida Hartrant Hisle, Mrs. Rachel Frye Kennedy, Mrs. Louisa Carmody Albert and Mrs. Eleanor Warren Wilmarth. Miss Mary Bersaw, another clerk who has resigned her position to be married next month, also will be among the guests, as will Miss Hazel Davis, assistant secretary to Dr. Frank W. Ballou, who resigned yesterday to accept a position with the research division of the National Education Association.

Rockville Marriage Licenses.

Licenses have been issued in Rockville for the marriage of Lawrence A. Gloyd, 22 years old, of Washington, and Miss Jessie E. Johnson, 20, both of Beallsville, Md.; Michael J. Hickey, 22, and Miss Margaret J. Graner, 22, both of Washington; Clarence Gentry, 21, and Miss Florence Brown, 25, both of Montgomery county; Loren Franklin Schutt, 28, and Miss Alice Fern Woodruff, 23, both of Takoma Park, Md.; Francis Ralph Hughes, 28, and Miss Eugenia M. Ohi, 27, both of Washington; Harry L. Merrick, 22, of Capitol View, Md., and Miss Irma L. Keene, 23, of Washington.

Exploding Torch Burns Man.

When his blow torch exploded while he was working in the basement of a house at 307 S street northeast, yesterday, Theodore Estler, 38 years old, 3554 New Hampshire avenue northwest, a plumber, was burned on the left hand and arm. The explosion started a small fire, which was extinguished by firemen of No. 12 engine company.

DEBT CANCELLATION MOVE TO BE FOUGHT BY KLAN, EVANS SAYS

Imperial Wizard Gives Order's Views After Meeting Ends in Secret Session.

HANDS OFF IN MEXICO, IS RESOLUTION PLEA

Organization Alters Constitution; Out of Sympathy With Mussolini Government.

The Ku Klux Klan will oppose any move for the cancellation of foreign debts, Imperial Wizard Hiram W. Evans made known at the conclusion of the order's biennial convention in Washington auditorium yesterday.

Asserting he was speaking officially, the klun head made this known to newspaper men after a meeting from which they had been excluded. At the meeting a resolution, presented earlier in the day, was adopted, calling on the government to maintain a hands-off policy in Mexico's religious war. Dr. Evans was authorized to name a committee to present the resolution to Secretary of State Kellogg.

The United States government's attitude should be that of solely protecting citizens in their property rights, the resolution set forth. It expressed the klun's sympathy for the Calles government in its efforts to free the people from suffering foreign influences, to popularize education of the masses, and to establish a government of the people, by the people and for the people.

U. S. Should Not Interfere.

"For more than 100 years the people of Mexico have been struggling for independence from European religious and political influences in government," the resolution said, "such influences being largely, if not entirely, responsible for the ignorance and squalor in which the masses of Mexico have lived and continue to live."

It is the sense of the klun, according to the resolution, that this government "in no way should interfere in the internal affairs of the Republic of Mexico except for the protection of the rights of American citizens, guaranteed by international law, or for the preservation of the Monroe doctrine from infringement by European powers."

The resolution, the only one said to have been adopted, was declared to have been adopted overwhelmingly. It was presented in open meeting and indications were it would have been adopted unanimously at the time, but the presiding officer ruled it first had to go to the resolutions committee.

Changes in Constitution.

Some changes in the order's constitution, said to be in order to make it more workable, also were made.

Dr. Evans, in his interview, also made known that the klun is in sympathy with Mussolini's government. Referring again to the reported cablegram sent by Mussolini to the State Department, asking for action against antifascist meetings in this country, the Imperial Wizard said the klun would oppose this country going any further than the enforcement of its statute laws.

It will oppose any action favorable to the fascist which goes beyond its, he said.

If the European nations do not want to pay their debts let them repudiate them once and for all, Dr. Evans said, but a writing off of them by this country, he said, would be bad for the people who have made it. It would tend to make the individual weaker in his financial obligations, he said.

The klun wholeheartedly is in favor of prohibition, but does not consider it the only law of the land, Dr. Evans said in effect. His point was that merely because one candidate is a dry and the other a wet the klun would not support the dry necessarily.

Would Vote Against Smith.

There might be transcending issues, he explained. Asked if he believes the klun would disregard party lines and vote as one against Gov. Smith, of New York, he said he does not believe any klansman would vote for a nullifier." George E. Brennan, Democratic senatorial candidate in Illinois, also was classed as a nullifier by other klun speakers in the course of the convention.

The wizard, a great admirer of Senator Borah, resembles him in many ways, in stature and face. He has a dynamic force about him, engaging, and a mind that works like a clock under a battery of questions. He has a strong Southern accent, but there is none of the drawl in his speech, which decidedly is forceful.

Will Continue to Strut.

At a morning meeting he asked the delegates whether they wanted him to continue to "strut the dog." Explaining he had a high priced automobile and that when he traveled he occupied the most expensive suites of the hotels, he said he believed it was befitting the head of a great order and brought it respect. However, if the delegates did not feel that way about it he would be glad to return to "pork and beans"—it did not matter with him.

The delegates expressed their approval of his continuing to "strut the dog."

Financial affairs were discussed at a closed meeting.

The entire Maryland realm of the organization has reverted to the "provincial" class, it was learned. This means its charter has been taken away and it is under the direct control of national headquarters. There is understood to have been some factionalism in the State.

10 Children Recover At Tuberculosis Camp

Recovery cards were awarded yesterday to 10 of the 55 children cared for the last eleven weeks at the health camp, financed by the Washington Tuberculosis association. Dr. J. Winthrop Peabody, superintendent of the Tuberculosis hospital, presented the cards at the close of an address in which he explained the work done by the camp under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Hillary.

Miss Margaret Craig, director of the child health education department of the tuberculosis association, explained the work of the camp as illustrated on individual charts. Miss Craig has had charge of the camp weekly clinics.

Bad Checks and Car Theft Charged to Man

Charged with passing bad checks and the theft of an automobile, Charles Tosh, 27 years old, of Alexandria, Va., was arraigned in police court yesterday before Judge Schmidt. Both cases were continued until September 22.

Judge Schmidt also revoked Tosh's probation, causing him to begin a 90 days' sentence for previous violations of the bad check law. Police said the automobile Tosh was driving when arrested on the bad check violation had been stolen from Virgie Burner, 5225 Fourth street northwest.

BREAD AND WATER RESTRAINING ORDER REFUSED BY COURT

Four Dry Law Prisoners Continue Restricted Diet as Injunction Suit Fails.

GOVERNOR SAYS CASE DOES NOT CONCERN HIM

Formal Appeal to Be Made to Federal Tribunal; Brother Snubs Judge.

Tekamah, Neb., Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—An injunction to restrain Burt county officials from continuing their bread-and-water diet ordered as part punishment for Roy Carson, liquor law violator, was refused here today. Three others in jail on similar sentences tonight believed they would have to continue their sentences in view of the failure of Carson's application. They are Thomas Nelson, 50, farmer; Max Saltzman, 16, in jail here, and Fred Dirks, who is on his fifth day's diet sentence in jail at Lexington. All but Dirks have made unsuccessful appeals for sentence modification. Ten days has been trimmed from the twenty-day diet stretch for Carson, whom the Burt county physician declared was undernourished and not in condition to stand a long diet. District Judge Fitzgerald ruled his court had no jurisdiction in the matter and that sentence modification was a purely administrative function, provided for by law and vested in the county physician and sheriff.

Later R. C. Hunter, attorney for Carson, said he may appeal to Gov. McMullen, as head of the State pardon board, for a respite in Carson's sentence until formal appeal can be made to a Federal court for a restraining order. Gov. McMullen replied that "neither I nor the board are interested as the courts are available for justice."

County Judge Orville Chitt, who imposed the sentences on Carson, Nelson and Saltzman, arrived home from Rochester, Minn., today, but did not appear in court. His brother, J. H. Chitt, who is Attorney Hunter to defend Carson, his lifelong friend, passed the judge on the street today, but refused to speak.

Judge and Brother Clash. "I don't want people to know I have a brother who will give people bread-and-water sentences," he explained.

"I can't help what my brother says or thinks, bread and water sentences will go on in Burt county while I am county judge," Judge Chitt said.

Sheriff W. Smith of Burt county is carrying the bread and water diet for Carson, Nelson and Saltzman, giving them white and rye bread and cinnamon rolls. While Carson and Nelson seem anxious to escape the diet, Saltzman is equally anxious to get it over with.

"I don't know what all the fuss is about," he told newspaper men. "Bring on the bread and water; let's get it over with."

MacMillan to Study Far North Five Years

New York, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—A five-year scientific study of the far north will be started next summer, Donald MacMillan, arctic explorer, made it known today. A scientific station, he said, would be established at Kowk, near Nain, Labrador.

Commander MacMillan plans to remain at the station 15 months and then return to civilization for fresh supplies. He will be accompanied by five scientists, including an ornithologist, a biologist, a botanist, a geologist and an anthropologist.

Evangelist Tells Angelus Temple Audience She Expects to Be Put in Jail.

DOCTOR, CITED IN CASE, KILLS SELF WITH POISON

Suicide Had Denied Connection With Alleged "Frame-Up" to Furnish "Miss X."

Los Angeles, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—Arrest of Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, in connection with new developments in her disappearance case, was discussed today by District Attorney Asa Keyes and his assistants. Decision on whether action will be taken against the Angelus temple pastor will rest on the results of further investigation, it was announced.

The investigation centers upon statements of Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman Sietlaf, and Miss Bernice Morris, whose picture and voice had been made to manufacture evidence to support Mrs. McPherson's testimony before the grand jury that she had been kidnapped last May. These two women said that money had been given them from Angelus temple for their activities.

One of the major developments was the location by the prosecutor's agents of Joe Watts, of Long Beach, named by Miss Morris as the man whose picture and voice had been identified as the "Steve" whom Mrs. McPherson had named as one of her kidnappers.

Expects to Be Arrested. Miss Morris said that Watts had no connection with the disappearance of the evangelist, but had been chosen by R. A. McKinley, blind Long Beach attorney, killed recently in an automobile accident, to determine the sincerity of Mrs. McPherson and whether it was merely desired to produce some one to give credibility to her story of kidnapping.

Meanwhile, the evangelist continued her services as usual at Angelus temple, and through her mother, reiterated past statements that she was under "persecution" of certain interests bent upon destruction "who would stop at nothing to put us out of the way."

Dr. A. M. Walters, 55, whose name has been brought into the case, committed suicide today by drinking poison according to police reports. Dr. Walters was scheduled to appear in court today to answer a grand larceny charge involving $1,500.

The dead man's name entered the MacPherson case several days ago when his name was found in a note book of Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Sietlaf, who charges the evangelist hired her to "frame" evidence to disprove reports that Mrs. McPherson occupied a cottage at Carmel, Calif., with a man, following her disappearance last May.

COOLIDGE PUTS EMBARGO ON ARMS FOR NICARAGUA

President's Action Results From Recommendations of State Department.

Paul Smiths, N. Y., Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—President Coolidge directed his attention today to Nicaraguan affairs where political and military disturbances have developed and by proclamation placed an embargo on the shipment of arms and munitions from the United States to that country. The action was taken upon the recommendation of the State Department at Washington and beyond a brief announcement of the proclamation no comment was made here on the situation.

Returns from the several State primaries of yesterday were received by Mr. Coolidge at the executive offices today, but he made no comment on the results. From the first he has refrained from taking part in State party contests and it is understood he intends to adhere rigidly to that course. Even the Maine State election figures brought no statement from him, but in that case he sent telegrams of congratulation to the four Republicans who were elected to Congress as successful candidates for national offices.

Mr. Coolidge plans to receive Senator Bruce, of Maryland, and a group of Baltimore residents, after his return to Washington to hear their protests against continuance of the Curtis bay arsenal in that city. The protest was first made after the explosion in the naval arsenal at Dyer, N. J., and was renewed today with the request that the President receive the delegation. The first protest was sent from here to the War Department, which is understood to have reported that the situation was not such as to create an emergency which would permit the President to act without Congressional authorization.

A cold, overcast day greeted Mr. Coolidge today and he passed the time at the executive offices and at White Pine camp. Preparations are already far advanced for his return to Washington at the end of this week.

If the revolutionists hold this position the garrison on El Bluff will be in danger of starvation, as provisions cannot be brought to the bluff.

New Orleans, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—A cablegram relating the alleged capture by Gen. Sandoval of the liberal party at Bluefields, Nicaragua, of the Cuyamel Fruit Co.'s steamer Dictator, while it was loaded with arms, was received here yesterday by J. P. Rodriguez, representative of the liberal party.

Managua, Nicaragua, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—The revolutionists have captured Half Way Key, which controls the channel between El Bluff, the customs station, and Bluefields. FASCIST ORDERS ASSAIL PARIS; FRENCH PROTEST

Third Official Complaint Is Made as Threatening Charge Is Issued.

Rome, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—Orders issued to the fascist party by its directory today refer vehemently to the French attitude in refusing to accept any responsibility in the case of Gino Lucetti, who came from France to make his attempt against the life of Premier Mussolini. The orders say in part: "The land of France, for whose safety some of our 500,000 war dead fell, has been for years the most hospitable land for all those hatching in their perfidious hearts hatred against Italy."

"It is there," the orders continue, "that spirits are excited, bombs are built, and those people are instructed who later will enter Italy to attempt the life of the head of the Italian regime, all this can not longer be tolerated."

The orders declare that if France desires to continue friendship with Italy, as the latter desires, she must change her line of conduct. At any rate, after what has happened, Italy will keep a sharp watch at the frontiers and receive people such as Lucetti with "guns in hand."

Fascism must still consider itself mobilized, and if connivance should be found between subversives inside as well as outside the country, the attempt against the premier, "then the fascist will know how to act."

Vienna, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—Travelers arriving here from Italy report that Trieste is under martial law following a fight yesterday between fascist and the regular police.

Paris, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—For the third time since the attack on Premier Mussolini under martial law in Rome today lodged a protest against irritating demonstrations before French consulates. The latest incidents were in Leghorn and Trieste.

for Council Place.

ELECTION POSTPONED TO ASSIST ASPIRANTS

Uruguay, Side-Track in Latin-American Caucus, May Carry Fight to Floor.

Geneva, Switzerland, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—The atmosphere of an American city, in which the delegates to a national party convention in a bewildered way are sifting the merits of a set of favorite sons, is reproduced in Geneva tonight, with the exception that nations, not individuals, are the candidates. So exciting is the canvassing for the nine nonpermanent seats in the council of the League of Nations that the league leaders abandoned their original plans to hold the election today and postponed it until tomorrow morning to permit the aspirants further time to line up their partisans.

The Irish Free State looms large in the campaign, for Ireland's candidacy for a league council seat was officially launched today.

Seek Dominion Support.
The Free State is asking for the support of all the dominions, declaring that in the judgment of the Irish delegation dominion interests would best be served by the presence of the Free State in the council.

Turk Court Orders
Frenchman Jailed

Paris, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—A Havas dispatch from Constantinople says Lieut. Desmons, of the French Merchant ship Lotus, has been sentenced to 80 days imprisonment by a court which tried him on manslaughter charges.

While the French foreign office is silent regarding the effect of the Desmons sentence, some iniquitude is expressed in unofficial circles as to the repercussion of the court's action upon a matter that had been regarded as virtually settled by the decision to hand it over to the permanent court of international justice.

Self-Accused Killer
Declared to Be Sane

Minneapolis, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—Tom Johnson, self-accused slayer and bandit, was declared sane in a report of alienists today, 24 hours before the time set for his trial on a charge of murdering Leonard Erdall here last December.

Johnson was returned from Seattle six weeks ago, after he had told authorities there that he had killed a dozen persons. He pleaded not guilty to the murder charge because he "wants to stand trial in some State where he will be hanged," he said. Minnesota's murder penalty is life imprisonment.

Beverly Bayne Wins
Final Divorce Bill

Los Angeles, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—A final divorce decree has been awarded Beverly Bayne, film actress, from Francis X. Bushman, also of the screen, in her suit charging desertion.

The couple separated in 1924 and the interlocutory decree was granted more than a year ago. Miss Bayne obtaining custody of their 6-year-old son on an agreement that he must not appear on the stage screen before he is 15 years of age.

Government Fights New Trial for Sacco

Dedham, Mass., Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—The government resumed its attack upon the 62 affidavits presented by defense counsel in the renewed fight to gain a new trial for Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, convicted of a double murder in connection with a pay roll robbery in 1920. Their motion for a new trial is based on the confession of Celestino Madellos, now awaiting execution for another murder, who has exonerated Sacco and Vanzetti.

In a dozen affidavits today the government produced statements from members of the so-called Morelli gang, of Providence, which had been alluded to as associated with Madellos in which they denied knowledge of the pay roll murders.

LIBERAL PARTY 5 SHORT OF MAJORITY IN CANADA

Coalition Government or Reliance on Progressives
Is Question.

90 CONSERVATIVES WIN

Ottawa, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—With all but two seats of the Federal parliament abandoned in the general election, the main question in the minds of all is whether the liberal party, with 118 seats, or 5 short of a majority over all other parties in the house, will be content to rely on liberal-progressive, progressive and independent support in the house, or whether there will be a definite coalition government. Such a government, according to rumors in the capital today, would include liberals, liberal-progressives and straight progressives, numbering 137 members at least, giving the government a strong majority.

The standing in the house, with two seats still in doubt, is as follows: Liberals, 118; conservatives, 90; progressives, 8; liberal-progressives, 13; united farmers of Alberta, 11; labor, 3; independent, 2. Latest indications are that a session of parliament will be held in November to clear up all outstanding business, left over through the abrupt proroguing of parliament last July. It is presumed that Arthur Meighen and his government will resign as soon as the liberal party is able to take over the reins of office. Bye elections will then have to be held to elect new cabinet ministers.

Strenuous days lie ahead of W. L. Mackenzie King, the liberal leader, who looks forward to resuming his post as premier. When he again forms a government, all members of it seeking paid offices, including Mr. King himself, will have to seek reelection.

Illinois Legion Men
Oppose Visiting Paris

Chicago, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—Controversy over holding of the 1927 convention of the American Legion in Paris, has entered two more State legion conventions.

Illinois legionnaires, meeting in Springfield, instructed their delegates to the Philadelphia convention to vote against the Paris proposal.

Clinton, Iowa, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—A resolution interpreted as unfavorable toward plans to hold the national American Legion convention in Paris, France, in 1927, was adopted at the Iowa convention here today.

ONE-TIME ACTRESS HEADS NEWSPAPER

Mrs. E. R. Thomas Takes Active Charge of New York Morning Telegraph.

New York, Sept. 15.—A Texas girl whose name eight years ago blazed forth from Broadway theater signs is today president and general manager of the Morning Telegraph, New York's daily newspaper for devotees of the theater and race track. She is Mrs. Edwin Russell Thomas, who as Lucy Cotton delighted Broadway in "Turn to the Right" at the Gaiety theater in 1918. E. R. Thomas, millionaire sportsman and owner of the Telegraph, married Miss Cotton in 1924. He died in July. Today Mrs. Thomas took active charge of the newspaper. She is the only woman newspaper president in New York city.

"I have followed the activities of the Morning Telegraph for a number of years," said the new president. "I shall try to run it just as Mr. Thomas would have had it run had he lived."

The paper recently was consolidated with the Running Horse, a racing publication.

WIDOW OF JESS SMITH TAKES NEW HUSBAND

Roxie Stinson, Star Witness in Daugherty Hearing, Is Married Again.

Washington Courthouse, Ohio, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—Roxie Stinson, divorced wife of the late Jess W. Smith, and who gave sensational testimony in the Senate hearing, during the investigation of the Attorney General's office, under Harry M. Daugherty, was married at Covington, Ky., September 3, to Phillip E. Brast, an oil operator; she announced here today on her return from New York.

While in New York on her honeymoon, Mrs. Stinson-Brast attended the trial of Harry M. Daugherty. Her first husband, Jess Smith, ended his life in the former Attorney General's Washington apartment. He was Daugherty's close associate.

Mr. and Mrs. Brast will move to Tulsa, Okla. Brast, the bride says, is the son of M. E. Brast, wealthy Oklahoma oil man. Roxie Stinson gained wide publicity during the Daugherty hearing in Washington several years ago with her testimony of her former husband's relations with the Attorney General.

MEANS, OF COLORADO, ONLY SENATOR LOST IN PRIMARY VOTING

Waterman, Anti-Klan Candidate, Holds Lead Over Incumbent by Thousands.

DEFEAT OF GROESBECK SURPRISE IN MICHIGAN

Smith, of South Carolina, Broussard, of Louisiana, and Jones, of Washington, Safe.

(By the Associated Press.)

Nearly complete returns from Tuesday's nine primary battles indicate the defeat of but one United States senator and only a few members of the House of Representatives.

In Colorado late returns gave Charles W. Waterman, former Coolidge campaign manager and anti-Klan candidate, a several thousand vote lead over Senator Rice W. Means in the Republican senatorial contest. Means is commander in chief of the Spanish-American War Veterans and reputed head of the Klan in that State.

A nip-and-tuck race in Maryland gave Senator O. E. Weller a slight advantage over Representative John Philip Hill, one of the recognized leaders of the wets both in and out of Congress.

Michigan Race Close.

With comparatively few surprises noted in any of the primaries, Michigan afforded an exception. Additional returns there continued to increase the early lead taken by Fred W. Green, of Ionia, over Gov. Alexander J. Groesbeck in the fight for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

In the Eleventh Michigan congressional district, Representative Frank Scott, veteran House member, and for most of last session acting chairman of the House military committee, is locked in a tight race with Dr. Frank P. Bohn, of Newberry, for the Republican nomination.

Another Michigan congressional fight, that between Representatives John B. Sosnowski and former Representative Robert Clancy, has attracted attention. Clancy, as a Democrat, was defeated for the present Congress by Sosnowski, a Republican. Clancy now turned Republican, threatens to capture that party's nomination.

Three Veterans Safe.

Three Senate veterans, Smith, of South Carolina, and Broussard, of Louisiana, both Democrats, and Jones, of Washington, a Republican, had comfortable margins for renomination. Dale Senate (Republican), Vermont, and Senator Butler (Republican), Massachusetts, were unopposed. In the November election Senator Butler will contest with former Senator David L. Walsh, Democrat.

In New York, which voted only for congressmen, former Representative Clarke, a wet, defeated Representative Tolley, a dry, for the Republican nomination, while in the Washington congressional race Representative Johnson, chairman of the House immigration committee, held only a slight lead over his opponent.

Senators Smith and Jones won under anti-railroad court candidates. Senator Broussard, a wet, was opposed by a dry.

Two Narrowly Escape Detective's Bullet

Joe Muntz, 306 Four-and-a-half street southwest, and Albert Kojok, 125 Four-and-a-half street southwest, had a narrow escape last night when a bullet from a detective's pistol shattered the windshield of an automobile on the running board of which they were sitting.

Detectives William Burke and F. A. Truscott, of the Fourth precinct, were driving on the street and their car nearly hit a colored man and woman at the corner of Four-and-a-half street and Maryland avenue. A fight ensued, during which the shot was fired. The negro gave his name as Mike Dawes, 22 years old, 515 Twenty-first street northwest. He was held, but no charge was preferred.

Columbia Heights Body for Midcity Site

The proposed midcity location was endorsed as the logical site for the new center market at a meeting of the executive committee of the Columbia Heights Citizens association last night at the Mount Pleasant Congregational church. The report will be passed on at a meeting of the entire association October 5.

The following were appointed members of the general committee on arrangements for "District day" at the Sequelcentennial exposition: Seneca B. Bean, chairman; Alton Carty, Dr. Lyman F. Kehler, Harley V. Speelman, H. C. Phillips, W. B. Todd, W. D. Sutherland, Frank M. Barnes, Thomas A. King, Miss Elizabeth A. Hayden, W. B. Wells, Mrs. Edgar C. Snyder, J. C. Lombard, Leo Terschbaum, R. W. Bayne, J. Edgar Hyatt and Charles E. Kern.

Coahuila Reports Catholic Prelate

Former Boxer Is Named For Allegany Sheriff

Special to The Washington Post. Cumberland, Md., Sept. 15.—The only Democratic upset in Allegany county in yesterday's primary was in the nomination of Fay Keiser, former boxer, for sheriff. Keiser entered the race at the eleventh hour and defeated Walter T. Parker, the organization's choice, a veteran Democratic worker. The vote was Keiser 2,103; Parker, 1,978. Keiser was wounded while with the American army in France and was the runner-up for the army heavyweight championship. Bob Martin got the decision over him in Paris, but Keiser later beat Bob Martin at the Fifth Regiment armory in Baltimore. John W. Snyder, Keiser's boxing manager, managed his political campaign.

WELLER IS WINNER IN MARYLAND RACE

after such a hard and bitter fight, which was going on actively for three or four times the length of time ordinarily devoted to a primary campaign.

"In this campaign I was opposed to just about the most powerful combination which could be arrayed against me. However, I have always tried to do my duty to my State and my party and I feel that the result has been a confirmation of efforts in that line. I have had the support of many hundreds of friends throughout the long contest."

Senator Weller said that in spite of the long fight, in which, however, he did not active campaigning and made no speeches—he felt physically better, weighed more and looked better, according to his friends, than he had in a long time.

Representative Hill received the returns today at the home of former Senator Joseph I. France here. Mr. Mullikin, when notified that the incomplete returns indicated his nomination, said:

"I am very grateful to my friends throughout the State for their confidence and their support."

In each county the complete returns gave Senator Weller 1,950 votes and 875 for Hill. Marlon Humphreys, Hill's running mate, received 1,144, against 619 for Mullikin.

Weller Carries Cecil.

First returns from Cecil county indicated that Hill would carry it and the four convention votes had been placed to his credit. When the count was completed it showed that Senator Weller carried the county.

Returns from the First judicial circuit in the contest between Chief Justice John R. Pattison against William P. Johnson showed that three of the four counties gave Judge Pattison a majority over his opponent.

FOUR MEN FLOGGED BY A HOODED MOB

panions, still has red marks over his body.

"I had gone to the oil station to go to sleep when the mob came," Lapping said. "I heard a noise outside and stepped out. The mob wanted me to give them the key to the station. I refused. Then they broke in the door and turned everything in the place topsy-turvy."

"They said I had been selling whisky, but when they searched the place they did not find any."

"They had several gallons of whisky in the truck which brought them to my place and they declared later they had found the liquor in the speedway station. They did not find anything there."

"Apparently angered because they did not find what they came for they then accused me and my friends of having insulted some women. That was also false."

"Then they dragged me and my companions to the woods some distance from the oil station and made us take off our shirts. While two men held each of us four others flogged us with big leather straps."

"My body was covered with welts and I could not lie on my back for six days. I would have been able to take care of myself against any one member of the mob, but when 70 of them stuck guns in my face I knew it was useless to offer resistance."

"The leader of the mob did not wear a gown but he had on a hood so we could not recognize his face. While the mob was leading us to the woods, a police patrol wagon was standing some distance down the road. I was told there were three policemen standing by the patrol, but they did not come near enough for us to recognize them. The mob warned all of us if we said anything about the beating they gave us they would return and kill us."

"The leader of the mob did not wear a gown but he had on a hood so we could not recognize his face. While the mob was leading us to the woods, a police patrol wagon was standing some distance down the road. I was told there were three policemen standing by the patrol, but they did not come near enough for us to recognize them. The mob warned all of us if we said anything about the beating they gave us they would return and kill us."

ALL LEE CANDIDATES FOR COUNTY OFFICES WIN IN MONTGOMERY

Democratic Leader Is Given Highest Vote on Ticket for House of Delegates.

MRS. STOCK HAS SAFE MARGIN FOR SENATOR

17 of 21 Precincts Give Weller 2,092 for Renomination and 488 for Hill.

All of the candidates backed by the Democratic organization, of which Maj. E. Brooke Lee is the leader, were successful at Tuesday's primary election in Montgomery county. In his contest for renomination, Gov. Ritchie carried the county over his only opponent, William Milnes Maloy, by a majority of 3,612, and all of the organization candidates for the nominations for county offices won by margins of from 217 to more than 2,700. Maj. Lee was one of those nominated for the house of delegates and led all of the nine candidates for such nominations in the number of votes received.

In addition to Gov. Ritchie the winning candidates were: For the nomination for sheriff, Joseph B. Pyles; State's attorney, Robert P. Terrell, Jr.; house of delegates, Maj. Lee, Dr. George L. Edmonds, Richard H. Lansdale and Harvey J. White; county commissioners, J. Forrest Walker, Robert L. Hicken, Dr. Benjamin C. Perry and Lacy Shaw; judges of orphans court, Henry J. Hunt, John R. Lewis and P. Hicks Ray; county surveyor, Joseph N. Starkey, Jr.; State central committee, Berry E. Clark, Robert C. Hill, Lewis P. Allnut, Lloyd J. Jones, Mrs. W. Ernest Offutt and Miss Ruth E. Shoemaker.

The vote totaled more than 7,000 and was the heaviest ever cast at a primary election in the county.

Mrs. Stock Leads for Senate.

Returns from 17 of the 21 election precincts of the county indicate that Mrs. Mary T. Stock, of Bradley Hills, won the Republican nomination for the State senate over Capt. Frank L. Hewitt, of Silver Spring, and John F. Seibert, of Garrett Park. Mrs. Stock received 922 votes, Hewitt 775 and Seibert 750, and it is not thought the returns from the other precincts will change the standing.

The same precincts gave Weller, for the nomination of United States senator to succeed himself, 2,092. John R. Pattison against William P. Johnson showed that three of the four counties gave Judge Pattison a majority over his opponent.

NOTES TO DAUGHTERY AND CHECKS VANISH

Societe Suisse Pour Valeurs de Metaux on seized shares of the American Metal Co. were heard.

"Did you take out any checks drawn to the order of Daugherty?" Simpson asked.

"Yes, two for $2,500 each," Durkin replied.

"What became of them?" "I think I took them to Bridgeport myself. They were in the box with other checks, vouchers, brokerage accounts and the letters. I left them in the storeroom on the third floor of Mr. King's home."

"When did you see them again?" "I saw them on March 27, 1926. The box had been brought back to New York and after King died I took it back to Bridgeport." King died on May 13 last.

"When did you see the box again?" "In June of this year. Two representatives of the government called at the home in Bridgeport and looked through the papers in the box."

Checks and Letters Gone.

"Where were the checks found?" "They were not."

"You know what became of them?" "I do not."

"I suppose your answer is the same as regards the Daugherty letters?" "Yes."

After trying for two and one-half of the six days he was on the stand to shake his testimony, the government concluded its redirect examination of Merton. Merton did not alter his story in any of its material aspects, and asserted throughout that he believed in 1921, when the claims were made and paid, and that he believes now, that the transaction should be needed for further evidence.

The government found itself in an odd situation with its own witness. Not only had the defense, according to Judge Mack, taken the witness as their own, but the whole of the government's case rested on show that he had made spurious claims, followed the statements of members of the United States Emory S. Buckner's staff, that Merton's brother and other former and Swiss citizens, were not culpable. After absorbing Merton of blame, Buckner spent nearly three days in an endeavor to show that Merton's story in 1921, but the results in the two claims had never occurred and that it was merely part of a scheme to defraud the United States.

Ordered to Remain.

Merton was ordered to remain within reach of the court in the event he should be needed for further cross-examination. Much of the testimony was admitted under a blanket objection that will preclude it unless the government connects it with the conspiracy. And the record of his evidence, interlocked with specific objections and exceptions.

Durkin, secretary of Mr. King from 1919 until his death, followed Merton on the stand. He testified that he knew Mr. Merton and had seen King and Merton together six or eight times in 1921. Durkin said that he had not seen Miller in King's office in 1921, but he did see Smith. Smith, he said, came very rarely, and he did not recall the dates of any of his visits.

Davis to Return Soon.

The Secretary of Labor and Mrs. James J. Davis are expected to return Monday from Sharon, Pa., where they are today attending the funeral of the Secretary's mother, Mrs. Esther Nichols Davis. Mrs. Davis joined the Secretary there, coming directly from Mooseheart, Ill., where she passed the summer with her children.

The Ambassador of Italy, Nobile Giacomo de Martino, who came to Washington on a short visit, departed last evening for New York, where he again joined Nobile Donna Antoinette de Martino. They will pass a few days in the metropolis and then will return to Steel camp, Lower Saranac Lake, before coming to Washington permanently for the winter.

The newly appointed Ambassador of Spain, Senor Don Alejandro Padillo y Bell, is expected to reach Washington early in October, though the date of his arrival has not yet been officially received at the Spanish embassy. The Ambassador will be accompanied by his wife, Senora de Padillo, and their family.

The former Ambassador of Spain, Senor Don Juan Riano, will arrive in Washington today and after a stay of a few hours, probably will depart to rejoin Mme. Riano, who is the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Chandler P. Anderson, at York Harbor, Maine.

The Minister of Portugal, Viscount d'Alte, who passed the late summer at Bar Harbor, Maine, arrived in Washington yesterday and is occupying his apartment at the Wardman Park hotel.

The Minister of Denmark, Mr. Constantin, who arrived in Washington this afternoon from Bar Harbor. He will depart tomorrow to attend the Danish day celebrations at the Sesqui-centennial in Philadelphia, returning here Saturday.

Dr. Dieckhoff Returns.

Dr. Hans Heinrich Dieckhoff, counselor of the German embassy and charge d'affaires ad interim, and Mme. Dieckhoff have returned to Washington from their country home, Buena Vista, and again are established in their Sixteenth street residence for the winter season.

Senator and Mrs. George Wharton Pepper, who closed their house in Northeast Harbor, Maine, on Monday, are motoring back to Washington and en route will stop in Philadelphia, where they are expected to arrive tomorrow.

Senator Clarence C. Dill, of Washington, has arrived at the Hotel Astor in New York.

The Secretary of the Italian embassy, Signor Luciano Mascia, has been joined in Washington by Donna Anna-Domville Mascia, who has been passing the summer with her parents in Canada.

The recently appointed attaché of the Italian embassy, Count Pio Macchi di Cellere, has taken an apartment at the Wardman Park hotel.

Will Attend Dedication.

Maj. Gen. and Mrs. George Barnett will depart for Philadelphia today to attend the ceremonies tomorrow in connection with the dedication of Mustin's field, the new aviation field at Philadelphia navy yard, which is being named in honor of the late Capt. Henry C. Mustin, who died in August, 1923, and who is often called the father of aviation in naval service. Capt. Mustin was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Barnett, and her nephew, oldest son of the late captain, young Mr.

Lloyd Montague Mustin, will dedicate the field.
Gen. and Mrs. Barnett will be guests at luncheon of the commandant of the Philadelphia navy yard, Rear Admiral Thomas P. Ma-gruder, and after the ceremonies will leave for New York, where they will join their daughter, Mrs. Robert R. Dickey, and their grandchildren, Master Basil Gordon Dickey and Master Robert R. Dickey 3d, who have been their guests at Wakefield Manor and who will sail for France Saturday to join Mr. Dickey and to open their villa at Pau.

After bidding their daughter and her children bon voyage, Gen. and Mrs. Barnett will return to Washington and will motor to Wakefield Manor, where they will remain until late in the fall, entertaining many house parties prior to their return to this city.

The attaché of the Roumanian legation, Mr. D. Dimacesco, has returned to his apartment at the Wardman Park hotel after a week-end visit to Far Hills, N. J. He has as his guest Mr. John Gehr, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gehr, who were his hosts at their country estate at Far Hills.

The secretary to the President, Mr. Everett Sanders, and Mrs. Sanders returned yesterday, and are in their apartment at the Mayflower hotel.

Maj. Gen. Amos A. Fries, U. S. A., and Mrs. Fries were among the guests in whose honor Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Dow entertained a party of nine at dinner Tuesday evening in the presidential dining room of the Mayflower hotel. Mr. Dow, president of the Dow Chemical Co. of Midland, Mich., is in Washington attending the meetings of the chemical association.

Home Efficiency Service

Nancy Carey—

TO be sure she suffers from self-consciousness and to be sure you as her mother suffer for her, Mrs. J. D. M. To be in any way set apart from the usual among mortals can be a very unhappy circumstance and without question your very tall daughter considers it far preferable to stoop her shoulders to bring herself down to the level, or nearly the level, of her contemporaries, far better than walking about inches above them. I do not know that there is very much that you can do to help her over this self-conscious period, but when she is older she will probably mind less.

Helps for Homemakers

THE POST will pay $1.00 for every suggestion published! These suggestions may include original devices of any order that will lessen the labor of keeping the home, cleaning methods, ideas for methods of cooking (but no recipes), canning methods, suggestions of interior or exterior decoration and painting. The suggestions must be original. No manuscripts will be returned and more than one suggestion may be submitted, all or any of which may be accepted. Address all communications to Nancy Carey, Director, The Post's Home Efficiency Service, The Washington Post, Washington, D. C.

British Woman Sails 1,500,000 Miles at Sea

London, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—One and a half million miles of sea travel is the record of Miss Anna Dale, of Swansea, England, who is now on her fifty-sixth trip to New Zealand.

Miss Dale has been employed for 40 years by the government emigration service. She accompanies parties of women emigrants to their new homes. Her first voyages to Australia and New Zealand were made in sailing ships and she found travel much less dull than it is on the modern liner.

Lorgnette Effective In Awing Commons

London, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—Miss Margaret Bondfield, the newly elected member of parliament, uses a lorgnette very skillfully when addressing the house. When she first served in parliament her lorgnette was something of a novelty. It was useful as she frequently raised it with scorn and looked at some male opponent with all the contempt that a woman can display in staring at a dowdy-dressed enemy in the theater.

Reducing Menus For Dutch Women

Amsterdam, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).—Dutch women who wish to reduce are receiving encouragement from certain smart tea rooms which advertise special reducing menus.

Whipped cream, cakes and rich pastry are replaced by water ices, brown bread and lettuce sandwiches and tea with lemon at these shops. The dieting Dutch women are usually among the younger generation who find that French fashions and Dutch dishes are hard to reconcile.

Cottage Cheese Sausage

Recipe

1 cup C. F. D. Cottage Cheese.
1 cup dry bread crumbs—
or ½ cup cold cooked rice and ½ cup bread crumbs.
¼ cup peanut butter.
¼ cup chopped peanuts.
½ teaspoon powdered sage.
½ teaspoon thyme.
1 tablespoon milk.
1 teaspoon salt.
¼ teaspoon pepper.
1-3 teaspoon soda.
1 to 2 tablespoons chopped onions.

Cook the onion in the fat until tender but not brown. Dissolve soda in milk and mix in cheese. Mix all other ingredients thoroughly and blend in onion and peanut butter, forming into flat cakes or corn meal—fry until a delicate brown in a little fat in a hot frying pan. Other seasonings may be used than those specified in recipe—according to individual taste.

In the scheme of things accordingly. Too, there are untold numbers of persons in this world of ours who would be happy beyond understanding were a few additional inches the only handicap inflicted upon their bodies. And for her satisfaction will you tell her that one of the most beautifully crowned and gracefully lovely women that I have ever known stood 5 feet 11 inches in her stockings, and was proud of her height? Nor did she consider wearing flat heels, which made her feet appear at a disadvantage just to lower her head 2 inches. And that woman, by the way, has accomplished more in the world of women probably than any one we could name. Every turn of her head bespeaks success, and if you breathed that she was overly tall she would disarm you with a smile and announce that it was no end of an advantage at the theater!

I am just about to remember that this is a food column, and that there is the business of the day to which we must attend. Sometimes I feel that a man should be the housekeeper, for they are so much safer in the matter of words. Letters come to us sometimes that bring forth a perfect torrent, and that are to be answered through the column.

Today, being Thursday, we have planned a dinner consisting of a main dish of salmon. For those of us who are not in the habit of a meatless Friday this dinner will serve as well today as tomorrow, and as we do not have a daily menu but tide our planning over the week in three instalments, it is necessary to suggest a variety of things that a choice may be made. With this in mind we are adding a meat dish to the column which may be used at the discretion of the reader.

Our angel food party is to take place Friday, October the first, at half after two in the afternoon. We have deemed it wise not to attempt it before that date for a number of reasons, one of the foremost among them being the limited space in which we conduct these demonstrations and the consequent warmth radiated by the operation of the oven and the fact that many a warm day may yet be in store for us before September has run its course.

MENU

Tomato Bouillon.
Toasted Crackers.—Pickles.
Salmon en Casserole.
Cream of Corn Supreme.
Lettuce and Tomato Salad.
Raisin Bread.
Six Threes or Upside Down Cake
Coffee.

Salmon en Casserole.
1 can finely chopped red salmon.
1 pint white sauce.
½ teaspoonful salt.
Pepper.

1 cup cracker crumbs.
½ teaspoonful paprika.
12 olives finely cut.
½ cup chopped nuts.
½ cup green pepper.
½ can pimento.

Mix all the ingredients with the salmon with the exception of the white sauce and the cracker crumbs, and season. Put a layer of salmon mixture in casserole dish and then a light layer of cracker crumbs and pour in a small amount of white sauce to cover the whole. Repeat until the ingredients are used and then sprinkle the top with dots of butter and a bit of paprika. Bake slowly from three-quarters of an hour to an hour.

Pork Sausage and Macaroni.
½ pound macaroni.
1 pound pork sausage.
Onions.
1 can tomatoes.

Cook the macaroni and put one-half in the bottom of a casserole dish. Add sausage, slices of onions to cover and half of the pulp of the tomatoes grated and garnish with paprika. Pour the liquor from the tomatoes over the whole and bake in a moderate oven for an hour.

FAIRFAX APARTMENTS SOLD FOR $1,000,000

Property Will Be Converted Into Hotel by Its New Owners.

The Fairfax Apartment hotel, located on Massachusetts avenue at Twenty-first street northwest, was purchased yesterday for $1,000,000 by Maddux, Marshall, Moss & Mallory. The purchase price was slightly in excess of $1,000,000. It will be operated in connection with the chain of hotels already owned or controlled by this company in Washington, and will be under the personal direction of DeWitt C. Patterson.

Built as an apartment house, this building was the subject of extensive litigation, residents of that section objecting to an apartment house. The zoning laws were invoked and the matter taken to court, which decided in favor of the apartment builders, but at the same time the court decided that no other building of that character could ever be built in that territory.

In addition to hotel facilities for transients and permanent residents, the Fairfax contains 45 housekeeping apartments and has large garage facilities in connection with the hotel.

DAWES AGAIN SCORES

SENATE USE OF RULES

special rules to do business in a business way and in consequence to set aside the regular rules.

"In the last session of the Senate and Senate resolutions passed by yeas and nays voted, while 616 were passed by a viva voce vote and 'without objection' in all except a few instances. There were only ten House bill and House joint resolutions passed by yeas and nays vote in the Senate, while 599 were passed, in most instances 'without objection'.

"The use of the power of obstruction is continuous and manifests itself in almost every session of the Senate. Occasionally even the staunch supporters of the present system when outraged by some particular application of it will protest."

last thousand tons of cargo that makes the profits of a voyage.

"Shipowners can not raise rates to any great extent without injury to other industries upon the property of which we must rely. It follows that to improve the situation we must divide the business of the world in such a way that most of our ships most of the time will be carrying full cargo both ways at a rate that will pay a fair return upon investment and at the same time encourage agriculture and manufacture wherever a man is able and willing to work for a living."

Mr. O'Connor went to Dublin tonight, where he will be the guest tomorrow at a luncheon attended by Free State and North Ireland officials.

SOCIETY

Island, and on a motor trip through New England.

COMING THEATRICAL ATTRACTIONS

BELASCO.

Because of the crowds that have been clamoring for seats to witness a performance of "Able," at the Shubert-Belasco theater, it has been arranged to hold over this Anne Nichols wonder for another week. The engagement will positively end Saturday night, September 25. The seat sale for next week will open tomorrow.

Miss Nichols has certainly served up an appealing combination of elements in her story of "Able's Irish Rose," and has accomplished this in a manner that has tickled the fancy of the playgoer to such an extent that they come back time and again for more. The great success of "Able" is undoubtedly due to the power to attract a person for the second or third time.

GAYETY.

The policy of the Columbia Amusement Co. to sponsor only such attractions which may be thoroughly enjoyed by the most sophisticated, comes again to the foreground in Mollie Williams' "Latest and Greatest Revue," which will be next week's offering at the Gayety theater, beginning with Sunday matinee. Mollie Williams has been identified with a show that was not of the highest entertaining qualities and her efforts this season will illustrate anew that she is fulfilling the promise she made years ago to provide the Columbia with a new and different type of fashionable attractions. Her latest output is easily considered her best, for she has not only equipped her new show with the most lavish settings and costumes, but she has surrounded herself with a galaxy of players which are bound to create a new impression on amusement seekers.

COLUMBIA.

"La Boheme," King Vidor's gorgeous and colorful pictureization of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer of the famous opera of the same name, costarring Lillian Gish and John Gilbert, with supplemental cast that includes Renee Adoree, Roy D'Arcy, Karl Dane, George Jessell and Edward Everett Horton, is announced as the featured attraction at Loew's Columbia theater, following the current engagement there of Rudolph Valentino in his last and greatest production, "The Son of the Sheik."

Valentino's last picture is duplicating at the Columbia this week the phenomenal success in every portion of the country.

MUTUAL.

There is little danger of the performers with the "Step Lively Girls" ever catching cold, as they are kept on the move so lively for the two and a half hours occupied in transporting the audience to the world, and having the audience meet the various people of the various countries in their native costumes, hear them sing their native songs and see them dance their national dances, that the girls and boys have to keep up a regular marathon between the stage and out of each other's way and away from the strenuousness of the stage crew. It is safe in predicting that the engagement of the "Step Lively Girls" at the Mutual theater next week will rival in popularity the last visit.

AMBAASSADOR.

Richard Barthelmess, supported by Dorothy Donagan and a distinguished cast, will be seen for the first time in Washington at Crandall's Ambassador theater, beginning Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in First National's production of "The Amateur Gentleman." A new Asop Fable in Paul Terry's best vein and pipe organ music will augment the bill.

On Wednesday and Thursday Patsy Ruth Miller and Johnny Harron will be seen on the Ambassador screen in "Hell Bent for Heaven," which will be supplemented by Mack Sennett's "Ice Cold Cocoon" and a new News reel, which in turn will be followed on Friday by John Bowers in "Laddie" and Edna Conley in "Going Crazy," a comedy subject with many laughs, which in turn will be augmented by a new Topics of the Day.

On Saturday Johnny Walker and Pauline Stark will be seen in "The East Policy." Our Gang will cavort in "Uncle Tom's Uncle," a new Screen Snatchers will be shown and Pathe Review screened, the entire bill embellished with excellent pipe organ music.

PALACE.

The second de luxe program of stage screen attractions to be presented at Loew's Palace, which begins next Sunday afternoon for a week's engagement, will include three great attractions—The eight popular Victor artists, Renee Adoree and Ralph Graves in "Blarney" and Rubenoff, guest-conductor of Tom Gannon's Palace orchestra, who was one of the big attractions of last week's bill.

The eight artists, including the Peerless quartet, will appear here next week for the first time at popular prices. The eight artists are Henry Burr, tenor; Billy Murray, tenor; comedian; Monroe Overmire, tenor; Frank Banta, pianist; Stanley, barytone; Carl Mathien, tenor; and Sam Herman, xylophone.

The wistful Renee Adoree and the likeable boyish Ralph Graves, the two of the biggest roles of their career, supported by Paulette Goddard, Malcolm Waite and Margaret Seddon, in "Blarney."

KEITH'S.

From the ancient Japanese family of Samurais comes the internationally famous Sessue Kayakawa, star of Keith's theater for the week of September 13. The great star is presented by Lewis and Gordon in a new playlet by Burnett Hershey, "The Bandit Prince."

A big laughter piece will be the stellar feature of the week, presented by the Vaudeville Act Corporation and entitled, "Hello Good-Bye." The always famous Irene Ricardo will "cheer" next in a new playlet, "Pagliacci," by Joe Young. Frank Hurst and Eddie Vogt will do their stuff in "Profiting in Fun." Feena Bedini with Joe Melino, assisted by Nan, will offer "A Juggling Trastevere." Benjamin Ratner, will appear at Keith's for his second trip. Broadway's newest and brightest lights, the Di Gatanos, will be seen in "Darlings of the Dance, Yesterday and Tomorrow."

The usual screen features will complete the bill.

PRESIDENT.

As an opening attraction, beginning Monday, September 20, the President Theater Players will offer the greatest of modern war epics, "What Price Glory?" by Laurence Stallings and Maxwell Anderson, which played for more than a year to absolute capacity at the Plymouth theater, New York, under the direction of Arthur Hopkins.

"What Price Glory?" a tragic comedy of the strange horror and anxiety of the recent "big parade" is promised in the same realistic colors and setting that punctuated the New York showing in Leon Powars and Walter Griffith (last seen here in "Cobra") will carry the burden of proof in the leading and pivotal roles, while Clarence Harris declares the supporting cast will be the best ever assembled in the history of a stock company anywhere in America.

The Stallings-Anderson play is "war" in its true shades and tones. The viciousness, the slothfulness, the quaint touches of romance and the brutality of it—all are there, etched with skill and artistry.

STRAND.

Beginning Sunday at the Strand theater, Buster Keaton will hold away on the silver screen in his greatest of prize fight comedies, "Batting Butler," with Sally O'Neil. There are many thrills and laughs to the feet.

The stage presentation consists of Loew's high-class vaudeville, five acts in all, topped by a Herbert Barnett and Jack Thomas Revue. Other numbers on the bill will include "The Little Girl With the Big Voice," a song and ballet number, entitled, "The Little Girl With the Big Voice," and Ambler Brothers, "America's Foremost Equilibristes."

CENTRAL.

At Crandall's Central theater the first two days of next week beginning Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the major film attraction will be James Oliver Curwood's pictureized story of "When the Door Opened," in which the principal roles are played by Jacqueline Logan and Margaret Livingston. The comedy will be supplemented by Edna Conley in "Solid Gold," in addition to which a new Grantland Rice Sportlight will be shown.

On Tuesday and Wednesday the Central presents Dorothy Gish in "Nell Gwyn." The supplementary offering will be supplied by Ralph Graves in Mack Sennett's two-reel production of "Fanny Moon." On Thursday of next week Norman Kerry will occupy the Central screen in "The Love Thief."

Monte Blue and Patsy Ruth Miller will be the costars at the Central on Friday only in next week in "The Vision," which will be augmented by the natural color production "The Vision," which was suggested by a famous painting.

TIVOLI.

Anna Q. Nilson will be the pictured star at Crandall's Tivoli theater the first two days of next week beginning Sunday afternoon at 2, in First National's production of "Nobody." The foremost supplementary offering will be Mack Sennett's two-reel comedy of "Ice Cold Cocoon," which in turn will be augmented by a new release of the Pathe Review.

On Tuesday and Wednesday John Bowers will occupy the Tivoli screen in "Laddie," which will be supplemented by a comedy bearing the title of "Chase Yourself!" in which the stellar role is played by Jimmie Adams. Another auxiliary feature will be latest issue of Topics of the Day.

Lloyd Hughes and Dolores del Rio will be seen at the Tivoli on Thursday and Friday in First National's production of "Fala First." Lloyd Hamilton will occupy the Tivoli in "Jolly Tars" and a new Newarcel also will be shown.

On Saturday Jack Holt will occupy the Tivoli screen in Zane Grey's "Forsaken River," which will be supplemented by Our Gang in Hal Roach's "Thundering Fleas," a new Grantland Rice Sportlight and the first installment of the new chapter play "Snowed In."

MUSSOLINI PRAISED AT ROTARY MEETING

Italian Efficiency Increased,
Dr. Pomilio Says; Prince
Brings Greetings.

International day was celebrated by the local Rotary club in the Willard hotel yesterday by the presence of Prince Gino Conti, of Florence, Italy; Dr. Umberto Pomilio, of Milan; D. H. Blake, of Tokyo, Japan; Tage Glennis, of Denmark; Edward Green, of Panama; and Emilio Crespi, of Italy.

Prince Conti and Dr. Pomilio, the speakers of the day, told of the Italian situation at the present time, stressing on Premier Mussolini and fascism.

Dr. Pomilio declared that Mussolini was working to increase the efficiency of the nation and that the people of Italy believed in him and his honesty as a solution of problems confronting the country. Prince Conti extended greetings from the Florence Rotary club, of which he was the first president and concluded his address by expressing his admiration of the American race. The club appropriated $100 to help defray expenses for District day at the Sequelentennial in Philadelphia next month.

NATIONAL.

The Marx brothers in "The Cocoanuts," heralded by Broadway as the world's greatest laugh riot, will be the attraction at the National Monday. The big musical comedy smash comes here direct and intact from a year's run at the Lyric theater, New York.

Every principal entertainer and the beauty chorus of 60 will make the trip to Washington.

Exactly as presented in New York, means something when packed in to the big musical revue. Prominent in the case are Phyllis Cleveland, Jack Barker, Janet Velle, the De Marcos, Brox Sisters, Basil Ruysdael, Margaret Dumont, Henry Whittmore and the Breen Brothers. Four new songs by Irving Berlin, which were written in Paris by the composer last winter and introduced at the Lyric theater last May, will be heard in the comedy here.

EARLE.

The Earle theater next week will offer a bill comprising Keith's popular-priced vaudeville of the first rank, motion pictures of conspicuous merit and the usual house features.

The headline attraction will be supplied by Lewis and Gordon in a new group of fourteen male solo voices, which comprise one of the finest ensembles in the vaudeville world. The extra added attraction will be furnished by Bert Levy, a noted cartoonist and caricaturist.

Other vaudeville portions of the program will embrace "The Three Aces" in a novelty offering, Freeman and Lynn, who can always be depended upon to entertain, and other acts of the first rank.

The photoplay feature for the new week at the Earle will be Producers' production of "Almost a Lady," in which Marie Prevost, last seen in "Up in Mabel's Room," will be the pictured star.

METROPOLITAN.

At Crandall's Metropolitan theater next week, beginning Sunday afternoon at 3, there will be presented another composite program of screen, stage and musical attractions. The offering on the screen will be supplied by Richard Barthelmess in his latest First National vehicle "The Amateur Gentleman," adapted from the story of the same name by Jeffery Farnol. The feature of the bill to be presented on the stage will be a specially and exclusively engaged concert attraction, for which at time of writing negotiations are being conducted in New York city by John J. Pavette, supervisor of the Stanley-Crandall theaters. Auxiliary diversifications will include a concert overture by the Metropolitan Symphony under the conductorship of Daniel Breeskin, a new issue of the specially assembled Metropolitan World Survey and a cartoon comedy. On week days the Metropolitan Ramblers will be heard.

RIALTO.

To many intents and purposes it might be termed "circus week" at the Rialto, starting Sunday. The perennial lure of the circus, of the cracking whips and pink lemonade, the "big top" and the sawdust ring, is revived as a background for picture of circus life, "Bigger Than Barnum."

Vicla Danna is cast in the star role as the little high-wire walker. Filmed with the cooperation of one of the largest circuses in the country, "Bigger Than Barnum" is said to present an absolutely authentic view of "the big show" from the inside.

The presentation feature on the stage will be Spencer Tupman (himself) and his famous Mayflower orchestra, offering a shimmering program of the newest melodies.

You'll soon see our new baby everywhere!

Three figures which mean extra motor car value

Buick motor cars are now designated by their wheelbase lengths. Series One Fifteen has 114 1/2 inches of wheelbase. Series One Twenty is 120 inches from axle to axle, and Series One Twenty-eight measures 128 inches.

These designations direct attention to the fact that size is the only variation in the different Buick chassis. Every Buick engine, every part, every nut, every cotter pin, is of identical quality.

Another purpose served by these designations is to point to the extra comfort and value which result from Buick's extra wheelbase lengths.

Everyone knows that long cars ride easier than short ones. But it costs more to build them. Buick's great volume is the reason why Buick can build long wheelbase cars for such low prices. Many cars, several inches shorter than Buick and without advantages offered by Buick design, are priced considerably higher.

Compare the wheelbase length of other cars to Buick, before you spend your money.

QUESTION OF APPEAL ADJOURNS HEARING ON PHONE RATE CUT

Hoover Contends Action Can Not Be Taken Pending Decision on Valuation.

COMMISSION FORMERLY
HAD MADE SAME PLEA

Corporation Counsel Studying
Plan to Go to Court to Permit Session.

Counsel for the Chesapeake & Potomac Electric Co. made short work of the public hearing before the public utilities commission on the question of further reducing telephone rates yesterday. They raised a legal point at the outset of the proceedings that caused the commission to postpone the hearing in order to give Corporation Counsel Francis H. Stephens opportunity to answer the contention of the company.

Attorney George P. Hoover first repeated the contention he had made earlier in the office of the corporation counsel that, since the reduction ordered by the commission a year ago was pending in court on appeal by the company, the commission was without authority to review the valuation of the company's property and its rates based thereon, until the court had entered its decision.

Stephens Was Ready.

Mr. Stephens gathered his resources to reply to the argument. He was prepared to meet it.

But Mr. Hoover continued and said that the commission itself had taken the same view in 1920 when, while a court appeal was pending in a rate case, the Potomac Electric Power Co. asked for an increase in rates to meet mounting costs. The commission said it had no power to open the case, because of the temporary injunction protecting the pending appeal. And the company had to go into court to ask for a modification of its own injunction before the commission would come to a hearing.

It developed that Mr. Stephens himself had authorized the legal opinion cited by Mr. Hoover, but had not recalled it when yesterday's hearing was proposed. No answer was attempted. The commission instructed the corporation counsel to prepare an opinion on Attorney Hoover's coup and called off further hearing pending the submission of the opinion.

Maj. W. E. R. Covell, assistant to the engineer commissioner and executive officer of the public utilities commission, stated that Doris A. De Vane, general counsel for the company, had agreed not to resist application by the commission for permission of the court to proceed and it was indicated, after the excitement had died down, that this procedure might be adopted. It was pointed out, however, that in this case it would not be the petitioner who had obtained the injunction who would be asking for its modification, but the organization enjoined.

Georgetown Afternoon Law Classes Opened

The fall scholastic term opened yesterday at Georgetown university law school for students who had registered in the late afternoon classes. Morning classes will not convene until September 22, the same day that Georgetown college reopens.

Registrations at the law school approximate 600 students to date, with an expectation that fully 700 will be enrolled by next Wednesday. Formal exercises marking the reopening of the term will be held next month.

Fascinating

MISS MARIAN HORN

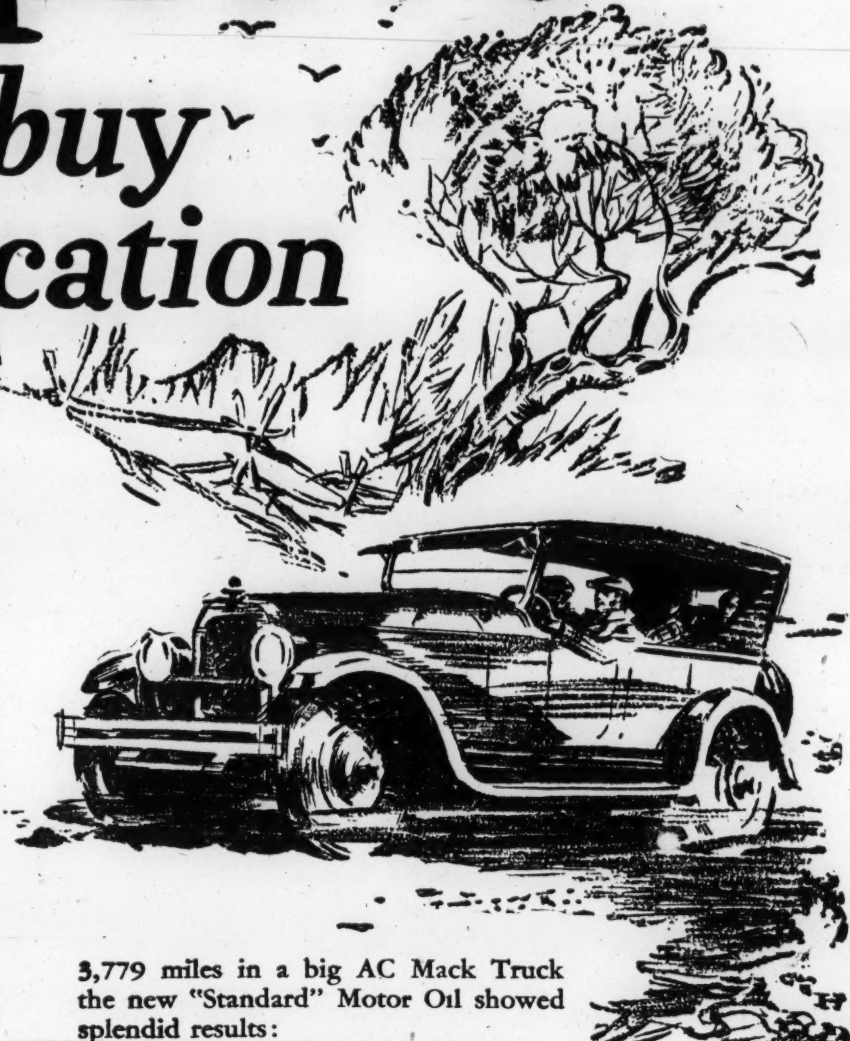

Sparkling, expressive eyes like those of Miss Marian Horn, 928 Troy Ave., Brooklyn, New York, are still more fascinating when they have the setting of such exquisite complexion. She says it's easy to keep your skin looking beautifully fair and soft when you use the delightful Black and White "Incense of Flowers" Face Powder, whose high quality and excellence at the low 50c price, make it one of the most popular of the famous Black and White Beauty Creations.

Mrs. Horn enthusiastically declares, "I adore the alluring perfume which belongs only to Black and White 'Incense of Flowers' Face Powder! I love, too, the wonderful way this dainty powder adheres for hours without renewing, and lends my skin a natural-looking, glowing beauty of texture and coloring."

If your dealer doesn't have the Black and White Beauty Creations you want, send his name to Plough, Memphis, Tenn., and you will receive free a copy of the Birthday and Dream Book, containing many interesting facts about beauty, dreams and fortune telling.

These tests prove — that you can now buy better motor lubrication

SOME of the benefits from the use of the new "Standard" Motor Oil are so unusual that it does not seem possible they could be derived from a lubricating oil. For instance, a variety of tests on different cars showed gains of 3% to 12% in gas mileage. Dynamometer tests showed gains of 3% to 10% in power. Cars could be throttled down in traffic without shifting. Carburetors were adjusted to leaner mixtures. Oil mileage showed increases of 27% and even 35%. Motors ran cooler and quieter. Carbon ceased to be a feature. In fact, on every count "Standard" Motor Oil demonstrated that the new principle which it embodies makes possible motor performance never before attained from any lubricating oil. Motorists say they can actually "feel the difference."

This new "Standard" Motor Oil will improve the operation of your car as it has improved these others.

A Quarter a Quart

7 Advantages

found only in

"Standard" Motor Oil

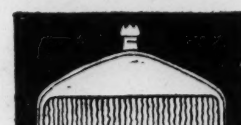

- 1 Constant lubrication—film on metal surfaces.
- 2 Frictionless operation, in a practical sense, even upon starting after idleness.
- 3 Less "breaking down" under load or at high speeds.
- 4 More miles per quart of oil and less crank case dilution.
- 5 Better hill climbing and smoother operation in high gear at low speeds.
- 6 Negligible carbon, clean motor and clean spark-plugs.
- 7 Actual saving in gasoline, with or without carburetor adjustment.

DODGE In an actual 1080 mile road test run from September 24th to October 22nd, 1925, using a Dodge Touring Car, the new "Standard" Motor Oil showed a decided saving in both gasoline and oil consumption:

40.9% increase in oil mileage
10% increase in gas mileage

There was also apparent a much smoother operation of the motor, more power and less sluggishness on the hills.

FORD In a 609 mile road test on a Ford Coupe run from September 24th to October 22nd, 1925, the new "Standard" Motor Oil showed a substantial decrease in both oil and gas consumption:

12.8% increase in oil mileage
12.3% increase in gas mileage

And the driver could actually feel a difference in the operation of his car—improved pulling, snappier pickup, elimination of the drag which the motor had previously shown on hills and the removal of the carbon which had been in the motor when the new oil was put in.

BUICK A Buick, in a test of the new "Standard" Motor Oil for carbon deposit, showed astonishing results. When the car was examined before the tests, there were heavy carbon deposits on cylinder heads and pistons. The new "Standard" Motor Oil was then put in the crank case and the car run 2,969 miles and again examined. Most of the carbon had disappeared—the slight amount remaining was easily wiped off with a cloth.

HUDSON In a 992 mile road test run with a Hudson Touring Car from Sept. 24th to Oct. 22nd, 1925, the driver, a skilled mechanic, tabulated these results:

27.1% increase in oil mileage
12.4% increase in gas mileage

And the driver reported decidedly smoother operation of the motor at all speeds, more power and less drag on hills.

MACK Tested on the road from September 24th to October 22nd, 1925, for

3,779 miles in a big AC Mack Truck the new "Standard" Motor Oil showed splendid results:

19.5% increase in oil mileage
20.9% increase in gas mileage
Less friction
Cooler motor
Increased power
Less motor drag

Other Mack Motors tested for carbon deposit demonstrated that the new "Standard" Motor Oil removed existing carbon and deposited none itself.

WHITE In a stiff 2,947 mile road test with a 5-ton White Truck run from September 24th to October 22nd, 1925, the new "Standard" Motor Oil proved that its effect on oil and gasoline consumption is on the side of economy:

19.5% increase in oil mileage
13.8% increase in gas mileage

Additional tests on White truck motors with "Standard" Motor Oil show a decided decrease in carbon deposit, less friction, cooler motor, smoother running at all speeds and better all 'round lubrication.

CARBON

Remarkable demonstration
when you drain out your oil

In addition to its other virtues, this new "Standard" Motor Oil is extremely effective in cleaning cylinder walls, piston heads and even spark plugs. Its black color after the first filling has been drawn off shows that it affects existing carbon. Drive 300 miles with the new oil—then drain your crankcase. Having dislodged this objectionable material you will want to get rid of it.

Second filling procedure

Having filled up the second time with "Standard" Motor Oil it is unnecessary to refill oftener than every 500 miles, or at your usual draining intervals. Needless to say, after the second filling, little or no carbon will form. If any deposit is made it can be easily removed.

EUROPEAN BONDS AGAIN

RAIL LIST REMAINS QUIET

New York, Sept. 15 (By A. P.).

Foreign obligations again held the center of trading interest in today's bond market. Despite the stability of the money market in the face of the day's billion-dollar turnover of funds, warnings of stiffer credit conditions and a possible increase in Federal reserve rediscount rates acted as a restraining influence.

Operations in the foreign list reflected the same type of buying which has recently been so effective in elevating prices of European issues to new high levels. The Paris-Lyon and Paris-Orleans railway bonds were the most favored of the French bonds while honors in the German group were divided between the municipals, such as Berlin and Cologne 4 1/2s and the Saxon Public Works 7s, all of which reached the best prices of the year.

The heaviness of local traction bonds was associated with the action of the transit board in urging strict adherence to the 2-cent fare principle for the operation of city buses. Fractional recessions took place in most of these issues. The announcement of record-breaking car loadings for the week ended September 11 failed to arouse much new buying interest in railroad obligations. Considerable activity developed in Denver & Rio Grande Western 5s, now under the status of income bonds, on reports that interest payments might soon be inaugurated, but the price remained virtually stationary. Moderate gains were recorded by Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville 6s, "Panhandle" 4s, Nickel Plate 5 1/2s and Delaware & Hudson 5s.

Central Steel 5s, Derry 7s, Gould Coupler 6s, Dominion Iron and Steel 5s and General Petroleum 5s developed independent strength. Only trifling changes took place in the government bond section.

C. GOLFERS PUT OUT OF TOURNEY FOR MD. U. IS DUE

Bobby Jones Favorite to Win National Amateur Title.

Team Taking Shape; Tenney Out for Rest of Season.

Louis, Eddie Held, and one from Los Angeles, George Von Elm.

It is a rather curious fact that three of these eight scored so high in the qualification round that they were able only to squeeze into the tournament by being fortunate enough to win the play-off. It is equally interesting to note that Outmet, one of these last-under-the-wire players, today displayed of Eustace Storey, the English golfer, who was expected to give Bobby Jones a real tussle when the 36-hole battles began.

The most particular if not the closest match of the day was between William C. Fowles, Jr., and "Chic" Evans, because if ever two veterans met on a golf course it was these two. In 1910, which is sixteen years ago, these two men met in a semifinal round, and to-day still found them going strong. Other veterans, however, like Jess Gullford, William M. Reekie and Wood Platt, succumbed to younger players in the preliminary round. Max Marston struggled hard to survive, carrying Maurice J. McCarthy, the young Georgetown university student, on the twenty-second hole before he passed out of the picture. It is true that McCarthy also went into the discard when he met Von Elm this afternoon.

Having passed the Rubicon of "Dick" Jones this morning and having easily disposed of "Bill" Reekie, one of Upper Montclair's sterling golfers, this afternoon, there seems to be nothing in the way of a serious obstacle to Bobby Jones' ambition to break all records by winning the amateur title three times in succession.

Tomorrow morning he meets "Chick" Evans for the first time in a national tournament, although they played against each other in the Western amateur at Memphis in 1920, when Evans won by the narrow margin of 1 up in 36 holes. Six years makes a difference, however, when a man is no longer a youth, as in the case with Evans, while Jones is better than ever. Golf, however, is an uncertain game, and many things may happen.

PROBABILITY is that Von Elm is the only player remaining who will give Bobby Jones a really serious contest. Although Outmet is going strong, his game against Storey this afternoon was a succession of miracle shots.

He ran down putts from every corner of the green for birdies and he played his explosion shots out of traps down to the cup. If he meets Jones on Friday, as is possible, and plays the game which he exhibited today, Jones will know that he has had a real fight before he wins. But it is worth while remembering his name because he is not going to be forgotten even if he has played his last round in this particular event.

The story of the day so far as Washington is concerned, centers around the two matches played today by Miller B. Stevinson, of the Columbia club, against Roland Mackenzie in the morning, whom he defeated 2 and 1, and Fred J. Wright, Jr., the present Massachusetts State champion, this afternoon losing the match on the seventeenth green.

Both Stevinson and Mackenzie, who are fellow-club members and personal friends, went into the match in half-hearted fashion, and played the first few holes like Alphonse and Gaston. Roland won the first hole by clipping close to the hole from the top of the bunker, while Stevinson took three putts. Then they saw-sawed back and forth in brotherly fashion, being all even when the eighth hole was reached.

THE eighth and ninth holes were their turning point in the match. Stevinson ran down a 15-footer to win the eighth and sinking another long putt for a par 3 on the ninth. On the outward journey Mackenzie took 43 strokes as against 40 for Stevinson, and was 2 down at the turn.

He missed a drive on the sixth, hooking the ball so far into the rough that it was difficult to find, and all his masher holick shots were distinct disappointments, the ball sailing up into the air and either falling short of the green or in a trap.

Stevinson, however, was playing his approaches accurately to the green and laying his putts dead to the cup. It was not until the thirteenth hole was reached that Mackenzie seemed to find control of his masher niblick and then his approach was so perfect that he ran his putt down for a birdie 3.

With the thirteenth hole played, Mackenzie was only 1 down and five holes remained. There was still ample opportunity to win. The fourteenth was played in fine fashion, being halved in par 4s, Mackenzie for the second time during the round getting a fine masher niblick shot which laid his ball inside of Stevinson's.

Then came another decisive hole. About 250 yards to the right of the fairway of the fifteenth hole is a large trap. Mackenzie's tee shot, with a slight slice carried his ball into the trap. Stevinson's drive was equally long but was on the grass.

THE green was more than 150 yards away, and Roland studied long before he decided finally to use a masher and try and reach the green. The half-topped ball hit the top of the bunker and bounced about 20 yards. Mackenzie then played the third shot to the green, which Stevinson had meanwhile reached in 8, and holed out in 5, Stevinson winning with a par 4.

This changed the situation entirely, for Stevinson was now 2 up with only three holes to play. The short sixteen was halved in a par 3, when Roland played a shot of a trap

University of Maryland has reached the scrimmage stage in its preparation for the football campaign, and there will be plenty of strenuous work between now and the time Washington college is met at College Park on September 25.

With the exception of the ends, the Maryland eleven is shaping up in pretty good fashion, and if a couple good wingmen can be developed the team likely will be heard from.

Thirty of the 31 expected to join the squad are on hand and the other one, Cockerill, a tackle from last year's Freshmen is likely to show up any day. He was kept at home by urgent work.

Latest additions to the squad were Boyd, quarter, and Stephens, end, and one of last year's varsity squad, and Porter, guard, with the 1925 yearlings. Porter, though, must remove a scholastic condition before he will be eligible to play.

TENNEY, last year's quarterback, who has been ill, was on the field yesterday, but it is pretty well established that he has chronic appendicitis, and will have to undergo an operation that will keep him out of the game for the season.

Adams, Keenan, Dent and Rothgeb are the leading end candidates; Wondrack, Granger, Porter, Morrison, Brown and Crothers set the pace for the guards; Zulick, Leatherman, Herzog and Fletcher are the outstanding tackle aspirants; Bafford and Schenck are the centers, while Capt. Stevens, Kessler, Linkous, Snyder, Schraeder, Parsons, Thomas and Pugh are the most conspicuous backs. Schaefer, an end last year, also is showing up well as a back.

Zulick and Leatherman, tackles; Adams and Keenan, ends; Granger and Wondrack, guards; Bafford, center; Kessler, quarter; Linkous and Snyder, halfbacks, and Schraeder, fullback, have been running singles on the first team.

Howard King Pitches Baptists to Victory

Howard King, who the day before yesterday held the Public Parks nine to two hits in the week-day play-off, twirled for the Clarendon Baptist team yesterday and set the West Washington Baptist club down with five hits, three scratches, in a Sunday School league game, which the former team won, 4 to 2.

which hit the cup but did not drop, Stevinson holing out with two putts. The end came on the seventeenth hole, when Roland, after topping his drive into the rough, did not reach the green until his fourth shot, Stevinson taking the same number by playing safe and running no chance of encountering one of the numerous traps. With the hole halved in 6, the match was over, Stevinson winning, 2 and 1.

When the fellow club members who had been forced by the luck of the draw to battle against each other, shook hands at the conclusion of the match, it was with mingled feelings of happiness and regret. They had met before in club tournaments, both in Washington and Baltimore, and it was the irony of fate that Stevinson's first victory over his clubman should come in a national amateur tournament. They talked the whole match over as they sat on the eighteenth tee waiting to play up the clubhouse, Roland being heartily in his congratulations, while Stevinson was anything but a joyful victor.

In fact, Stevinson expressed his sentiments in a telegram which he sent to young Mackenzie's mother in which he said that while he appreciated the honor of defeating Roland, the victory was one which carried no pleasure with it.

STEVINSON'S match against Wright this afternoon, although it resulted in his defeat, was most creditable to him. Wright won the first hole and Stevinson won the second with a birdie 3, and as every hole thereafter in the first nine was halved, Stevinson scoring 49 and Wright 40, the pair reached the turn all even.

Then Stevinson lost two holes in succession, topping his drive on the tenth and taking no less than four putts on the eleventh green from a distance of 15 feet. He recovered one hole, the thirteenth, when Wright shanked his masher niblick shot into a trap, but he was still down 1 when the short sixteenth was reached. On that hole Stevinson's iron shot trickled into a trap so that Wright, whose tee shot was on the green, won the hole with a par 3.

On the seventeenth Stevinson again topped his drive, the ball not even reaching the fairway, and Wright won the hole with a par 5 to Stevinson's 6. He felt, however, that he had given the Massachusetts champion a real battle and he smiled as he shook hands with his victorious opponent.

Crazy Horse and Eagle Hawk, two Sioux Indian chiefs, had "heap big sky ride" yesterday with Capt. A. H. Reynolds and Lt. William L. Scott, jr., army corps, brought them here by planes from the Sequoia exposition at Philadelphia.

The chiefs left an invitation to the "Great Father at Washington" to visit their camp at the exposition and become a member of the historic Sioux tribe. Crazy Horse is a veteran of the Custer fight and is said to be 101 years old.

Mr. Davison told of plans by air service to render commercial aviation as safe as possible. Friends of the service, he warned, will expect the impossible. They will say, "It is impossible." "That the department has limitations and is doing its best under the circumstances,"

Thomas W. Brahan, president of the Washington Lions club, greeted the visitors on their arrival by conducting them on a tour through the city. An invitation to go Philadelphia via airplane to be guests of the Lions club there extended to the local organization.
